MEDIA RELEASE

President of The National Gas Company to speak at Gas Symposium

Trinidad and Tobago will be at center stage at the gas-exporting countries forum taking place from November 12-14 at the Hyatt Regency.

The 20th Ministerial meeting of the Gas Exporting Countries Forum (GECF) will be declared open, on November 13, 2018, by the Prime Minister of Trinidad and Tobago, Dr. the Honourable Keith Rowley who will also give the Keynote Address. This will be followed by a panel discussion on the topic “Natural Gas and Long Term Energy Security” with Ministers of Energy of Algeria, Equatorial Guinea, Nigeria, Qatar, Trinidad and Tobago and Venezuela among others.

President of The National Gas Company of Trinidad and Tobago Limited, Mr. Mark Loquan, will be part of a discussion panel at the Gas Symposium being organized as part of the GECF. This panel will focus on “the Role of Natural Gas in Energy Policies of Latin America & Caribbean” and will include other panelist such as the Executive Director of the Latin America Energy Organisations, OLADE, Eng. Blanco Bonilla; Secretary General of the International Gas Union Mr. Luis Bertran Rafecas; and executives from leading energy companies such as Rosneft, Gazprom and Shell among others. Mr. Loquan brings a unique perspective as the leader of the state owned aggregator, NGC, that is focused on its international growth strategy.

The GECF not only represents an opportunity for NGC to share its considerable expertise in the gas business but also positions Trinidad and Tobago as the energy hub of the Caribbean and Latin America. On the heels of the recently signed Nutrien Gas Sales Agreement this conference further emphasizes the confidence of the international investor community in Trinidad and Tobago and the key role of Trinidad and Tobago in the energy business.
